Agreement between AEJMC and

(list all author names)

1. I have prepared and delivered an article entitled

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------ (the “Article”) to the Journal. This Article was specifically prepared for the Journal.

2. I guarantee that:
    • I am the sole owner of the Article.
    • I have full power and authority to copyright and to make this agreement.
    • The rights to the Article are not now subject to prior assignment, transfer or other encumbrance.
    • The Article is the original work of the authors (except for copyrighted material owned by others for which written permission has been obtained), has not been previously published in any form, and has been submitted only to the Journal.
    • The Article does not infringe the copyright or violate any proprietary rights, rights of privacy or publicity, or any other rights of any third party, and does not contain any material that is libelous or otherwise contrary to law.
    • All statements in the Article asserted as fact are either true or based upon generally accepted professional research practices, and no formula or procedure contained therein would cause injury if used in accordance with the instructions and/or warnings included in the Article.
    • Any studies on which the Article is directly based were satisfactorily conducted in compliance with the governing Institutional Review Board (IRB) standards or exempt from IRB requirements. In the event that any of the foregoing warranties or representations are breached, authors, jointly and severally, shall indemnify and hold harmless AEJMC, the Editor and the Publisher, their affiliates, assigns and licensees, against any losses, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses (including legal costs and expenses) arising from or resulting out of any claim or demand of any kind relating to such breach.
3. Each author will receive credit as an author of the Article when it is published in the Journal; the form and placement of the credit will be determined by AEJMC. The corresponding author is responsible for providing the name and contact information of each author to the Editor and/or SAGE in order to ensure accurate credit. Each author grants AEJMC and its licensees and grantees the right to use such author’s name, likeness, biographical information, and professional credits on copies of the Article and the Journal and in connection with the exercise of any other of AEJMC’s rights granted hereunder and in advertising, marketing, and promotion in connection therewith, and to grant such rights to any licensees or assigns of AEJMC’s rights hereunder.

4. I hereby assign and transfer the copyright in and to the Article to AEJMC, which shall have the sole and exclusive right to copyright and publish it in any media.

5. As copyright owner, AEJMC will have the right to grant requests to copy my Article.

6. I understand that this Agreement must be signed by each of the authors of the Article as a condition of publication. AEJMC makes no guarantee that the Article will be published in the Journal. If for any reason the Article is not published in the Journal, then all rights in the Article granted to AEJMC shall revert to authors and this Agreement shall be of no further force and effect, and neither AEJMC nor the authors will have any obligation to the other with respect to the Article.

7. In the event a dispute arises out of or relating to this Agreement, the parties agree to first make a good faith effort to resolve such dispute themselves. Upon failing, the parties shall engage in non-binding mediation with a mediator to be mutually agreed upon by the parties. Any controversy or claim arising out of or relating to this Agreement, or the breach thereof, which the parties cannot settle themselves or through mediation shall be settled by arbitration in Ventura County, California and administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its then-existing Commercial Arbitration Rules. The award rendered by the arbitrator or arbitrators shall be final, and judgment may be entered upon it in accordance with applicable law in any court having jurisdiction thereof. The parties consent to, and waive any right to object to, jurisdiction with respect to the resolution of disputes hereunder in Ventura County, California. In any legal action or other proceedings (including arbitration proceedings) between the parties, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover from the non-prevailing party all reasonable costs and expenses incurred in such action or proceeding, including without limitation, reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs.

8. The validity, interpretation, performance and enforcement of this Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of California without regard to its conflicts of laws provisions which would give rise to the application of domestic substantive law of any other jurisdiction. Subject to Section 7, each party hereby consents to the jurisdiction and venue of the courts of the State of California located in Ventura County and of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California.

9. This transaction may be conducted by electronic means and the parties authorize that their electronic signatures act as their legal signatures of this Agreement. This Agreement will be considered signed by a party when his/her/its electronic signature is transmitted. Such signature shall be treated in all respects as having the same effect as an original handwritten signature. (authors are not required to conduct this transaction by electronic means or use an electronic signature, but if authors choose to do so, then authors’ authorization is hereby given pursuant to this paragraph.)

10. No amendment or modification of any provision of this Agreement shall be valid or binding unless made in writing and signed by all parties. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to its subject matter, and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings and representations. The invalidity or unenforceability of any particular provision of this Agreement shall not affect the other provisions, and this Agreement shall be construed in all respects as if any invalid or unenforceable provision were omitted.

AUTHORS’ RESPONSIBILITIES

AEJMC is sympathetic to the needs of scholars to include other copyrighted material in their Article, and is happy to provide guidance on this. Responsibility for obtaining permission for any copyrighted material that cannot be included under the Fair Use doctrine rests with authors.

If the Article includes material for which authors do not hold the copyright, authors are responsible for submitting with the Article the written permission from the copyright holder of the material to include and reproduce the material within the Article. The permission must cover all media and all languages throughout the world in perpetuity. Authors are responsible for the payment of such permissions.

Please note: Whether the material is being used with permission, or on the basis that it falls under ‘fair dealing’ or ‘fair use’, full citation for the copyright holder and original publication of the material must be included with the submission.
AUTHORS’ RIGHTS

1. Subject to the conditions in this paragraph, without further permission each author may:
   • At any time, distribute on a not-for-profit basis, photocopies of the published Article for teaching purposes or to research colleagues on an individual basis.
   • At any time, circulate or post on any repository or website, the version of the Article that authors submitted to AEJMC (i.e., the version before peer-review) or an abstract of the Article.
   • No sooner than 12 months after initial publication, post on any non-commercial repository or website the version of the Article that was accepted for publication.
   • No sooner than 12 months after initial publication, re-publish the whole or any part of the Article in a printed work written, edited or compiled by the author, provided that citation is provided for the original publication by AEJMC, and the later work is not simply a re-publication of the Article.

For any use not detailed above, please contact SAGE at permissions@sagepub.com. Please forward to SAGE all inquiries and requests received from third parties for permissions, reprint rights, subsidiary rights licenses, and all other use and licensing of the Article.

The rights granted above in this paragraph are expressly made subject to and limited by the following restrictions:

   • The SAGE-created PDF of the published Article may not be posted at any time.
   • Each instance of use of the Article, or any part of it, must include the copyright notice that appears on the issue of the Journal in which the Article is first published and a full bibliographic citation to the Journal as published by SAGE;
   • Copies of the Article, or any part of it, shall not be sold, distributed, or reproduced for commercial purposes (i.e., for monetary gain on a author’s own account or on that of a third party, or for indirect financial gain by a commercial entity);
   • The Article, or any part of it, shall not be used for any systematic external distribution by a third party (e.g., a listserv or database connected to a public access server).

2. SAGE will directly, or through a third party intermediary, provide the Corresponding Author of the Article with an electronic copy of his/her contribution.
